Education of Farmers

The Southern Pacific Company under the direction of its traffic department has decided to operate free agricultural and horticultural instruction trains throughout the state with the co-operation of the University of California, State University of California, Stanford University, the Department of Agriculture and the State Horticultural Commissions.

In Nebraska, Washington and other western states where the Harriman lines are operated similar trains have with the assistance of the University and Government people been very successful in helping improve the quality of corn and wheat, increasing the production per acre and in decreasing the amount of fallow land by crop rotation.

The University of California through its extensive work has accomplished a great deal and the Government through its Bureaus of Soils and Plant Industry and the Horticultural Commission through its campaign in behalf of better quarantine laws and its fight against tree pests, have done a great deal for California in making cultivation more effective. However, it has not been possible, especially in the smaller communities, for the experts of these institutions to confer with the farmers and orchardists upon the ground and by discussion to bring out the practical needs of any one locality It is believed that these discussions will be of great value on both sides, giving to the scientists a much greater grasp of the needs of the situation and practical information, and to the land owners the great value of technical and expert information and as well the accumulated data which can be furnished only by men having had opportunity for wide and varied observation and study.

The Southern Pacific Company in co-operation with the instructions named has heretofore decided to create a special train carrying lecture cars and living cars so that stops if desired can be made at the most unimportant stations and so also that meetings of one or two hours duration may be held at several different points during the day, economizing greatly in time. The meetings will of course be held in halls where available and otherwise in the lecture cars. It is expected that the discussion will be practical and adapted to the needs of the immediate locality under consideration. People in that section having hard problems to solve will no doubt come loaded with questions. It is believed that a great deal of good can be accomplished in this way with the minimum of effort.

Boards of Trade, Improvement Clubs and similar local organizations are invited to give their recommendations as to the itineraries of the trains through the local district freight and passenger agents of the Southern Pacific or to the University people.

BOARD OF TRADE WANTS CLEAN STREETS

The meeting of the Board of Trade Tuesday evening was of unusual interest, there being a generous attendance of merchants and businessmen.

The matter of streetsweeping was discussed and it was the judgment of the members that the service recently inaugurated by the council of cleaning up twice each week instead of three times was inadequate. The secretary was directed to communicate with the council and suggest that the former custom be restored or else that the streets be swept Saturday nights instead of Fridays.

A communication was received from the Mare Island commandant inviting the members to attend the launching of the U. S. ship Prometheus at the navy yard on December 5th.

A number of those presentt signified their desire to be present and their names will be forwarded to the commandant who will supply the necessary tickets of admission.

The secretary furnished reports to the members of bills that had been put in his hands for collection during the month.

COUNTY OFFICIAL PAPER.

Tennessee's Pardner Coming

Sand Hill, Nev.—The pretty romance connected with the marriage of Miss Tennessee Kent to Caleb Swan, a well known mining man and gambler, is now widely known. Miss Kent came from the far East, from a little mountain settlement in the State for which she was named, to the rough and ready mining camp of Sand Hill, to meet her father, whom she had not heard from in two long years. To her sorrow, she learns that her father has been dead for two years, and that she inherits a a one-third interest in the Golden nugget mine.

Mr. Bice who has from time to time written to Miss Kent, letters of love and encouragement, arrives in camp shortly afterwards with his wife, a great surprise to the entire camp, and especially to his bosom friend and partner Caleb Swan.

Mr. Swan recognizes the bride as Kate Cornish, a well-known confidence woman and member of one of San Francisco's worst gangs of crooks and thieves. On a promise to lead a new and better life, Mr. Swan agrees not to divulge her secret of her life to the unsuspecting husband, who is very much in love with his beautiful young bride.

However, Tom Romaine, who has been wanted by the police of several localites for various crimes, turns up in camp. Finding his sister Kate, or Mrs. Asa Bice as she is now known, married to such a wealthy man he demands money from her, and, by threats, secures her co-operation in a sheme to rob her husband of a large amount of gold.

As they were about to carry out their infamous plan they were discovered by Bice and Swan. Romaine shoots at Swan, whom he has always disliked and feared, but hits and wounds Miss Kent. Of course, this led to a firmer friendship, which ripens into love and ends in a happy marriage. Mrs. Bice has confessed all her past life to her former husband, and Brice, a strong-hearted, typical pioneer, has welcomed her back to his fireside. Sand Hill was in a merry mood, and every one entered heart and soul into the jollifications attending the marriage of Mr. Swan to Miss Kent and reconciliation of the Bices.

This true story of Western life has been dramatized. And under the able direction of H. Gerald Carter, late of Weber and Fields of New York, will be produced at the Alhambra next Monday night. The cast is headed by William A. Lowery, leading man at the Suburban theater of St. Louis, supported by a carefully selected company of artists.

Pescadero Pebbles

PESCADERO, Nov. 13.—A shameful mis-carriage of justice, if all that one hears is true has just taken placein this town. It seems that one C. Leyson. a paper-hanger and painter, recently in the employ of Duart the saloon keeper, had taken a couple of boards belonging to the said Duart, on the 26th day of October last. He was soon after warned that he must replace the boards thus appropriated within two hours. Leyson at once returned the boards, but on the following day, the 29th of October, he was arrested to stand for trial on the charge, before Judge Arthur McCormick, of having stolen the two boards. And this in despite of his having returned the boards at the owners request. In the execution of his prerogative as Judge the honorable(?) dispenser of justice, was evidently so deeply impressed with the exceeding gravity of the offence, that nothing less than a fine of $30, or thealternative of thirty days in the County jail would be sufficient to wipe out so heinous a crime. It is moreover said that there was scarcely a particle of evidence to provo that the said C. Leyson had really intended to purloin the boards. Even supposing they had been thus mis-appropriated seeing that they had been replaced at request, would not common humanity have rested content with such restitution, without subjecting the man (this being his first offence) to the disgrace of a month's imprisonment. Surely the person now aoccupying the position of righteous dispenser of equity as between man and man, may truly say, "The King becoming graces of justice, verity, temperance, stableness, have no relish of them." Constable H. L. Good took Leyson to Redwod, as he culd not—or perhaps would not —and who can blame him? pay the $30 fine.

A well-known resident of Menlo Park, who knew Miss Edna Clark in San Francisco, says he saw her here last week. He is positive he saw the missing girl whose disappearance has caused such a sensation. Suit Over Estate

A suit has just been submitted to Superior Judge Graham, of San Francisco, the determination of which will decide whether Mrs. Alice O'Day, daughter of Attorney Joseph Coffey and the late Mrs. Nellie Coffey, shall receive her mother's estate, or whether Paul Lotz, a photographer, is to be considered the legal devisee.

Mrs. Coffey died in 1902. She had been divorced from Attorney Coffey. After her death it was discovered that she had assigned to Lotz $7000 worth of realty and $6,500 in cash. Public Administrator John Farnum sued to have the cash and realty declared a portion of the estate.

The records in the suit were destroyed in the fire, but were restored. Attorney Coffey and his daughter resided here at one time. He was twice defeated for the Assemblyman of this County.

Tourist Hotel for La Honda

P. R. Weeks, of La Honda, was in Palo Alto yesterday and announced his purpose of building a fine hotel as a summer resort on the site of the old Weeks mill.

The hotel building will be a large structure and will be provided with all modern conveniences. Mr. Weeks did not explain the architectural plans for the building, nor what amount the structure would cost. He said, however, that the resort would be one of the finest in Central California. He plans to dam the creek and create a lake large enough to afford fine boating, and also to provide bathing facilities. The grounds around the hotel will be laid out with effective scenic effects and the location is such that the place can be made particularly attractive.

The lumber for the hotel is already on the ground and the construction work will be begun at once in order to have the resort ready for next summer's outing season.

For many years La Honda has been the most attractive camping resort on the peninsula. It is in a beautiful redwood forest and the mountain streams afford good fishing. It is but a short drive from La Honda to the ocean beach at San Gregorio, and the region surrounding equals the Sierras in the variety of attractions.

The new hotel will undoubtedly prove a popular resort, since with the limited accommodations that have prevailed many people spend the summer there. With a modern hostelry La Honda will become one of the noted and convenient resorts of Central California.—Palo Alto Times.

A GRIM CEREMONY.

An Emperor's Death Hastened by Rehearsing His Own Funeral.

Emperor Charles V. of Spain brought about his death by rehearsing his own funeral. For the last two years of his life, after resigning the scepter of Spain and the Netherlands to his son Philip in 1556, Charles retired to the monastery of Yuste, in Estremadura, and there lived a cloister life in close intercourse with the monks, devoting much time to religious exercises. During this period, prompted, it may be, by the example of Cardinal de la Marck, who for several years before his death, in 1528, had annually rehearsed his own obsequies, the emperor, in the summer of 1558, formed the resolution to celebrate his own funeral before he died.

Accordingly, on Aug. 30 of that year, the grim farce was carried out with the most elaborate ceremonial. The imperial domestics marched with black tapes in their hands, and the emperor, clad in sable weeds, himself followed, wearing his shroud. While the solemn mass for the dead was sung before the high altar in the cathedral Charles gave up his taper to the priest, typifying thereby his resignation of life, and was solemnly laid his coffin. The ceremony closed with sprinkling holy water on his body; then, all the attendants retiring, the doors were shut, and Charles rose from his narrow bed and withdrew to his private apartment.

The damping of the graveclothes induced a chill, which, aided no doubt by the mental depression caused by the grewsome ceremony, induced a fever which ended in his death three weeks later, on the 21st of September, 1558.

Unruffled.

Master—Mary, I wish you would be more careful. I'm sorry to hear my wife has to scold you so often. Mary—Oh, it's all right, sir. I seldom takes any notice of her.—London Telegraph.

OUTSIDE RESIDENTS ASK FOR IMPROVEMENTS

The town council held an important meeting Thursday evening at which considerable business was transacted.

The property owners along Roosevelt avenue petitioned the board for arc lights on the County Road and Roosevelt avenue. Action on same was deferred until the Electrical Engineer had made his report.

A map of Subdivision No. 1 of West Redwood was accepted and filed.

The petition asking that Redwood avenue be curbed, sewered and macadamized was laid over until the next meeting of the board when the City Engineer would report on same.

An order was made that no more wooden curbs be laid within the City limits. The town attorney was instructed to prepare a resolution rescinding the ordinance regulating the speed of Southern Pacific trains through the town limits.

City Attorney Mansfield was appointed a delegate to represent the town of Redwood City at the 11th annual convention of the League of California Municipalities at Sacramento on Nov. 17th and extend an invitation to the League to meet at Redwood City next year.

Superintendent of Streets Dickie was directed to purchase two car loads of rock for Arguello and Mound streets.

Ordinance No. 72 providing for the incurring of bonded indebtedness and providing for issuance of bonds of said townevidencing such indebtedness was passed.

Grand Jury Organized.

The following citizens were drawn yesterday as Grand Jurors and organized with Geo. R. Sneath as foreman: John Biggio, C. J. Hatch, Geo. R. Sneath, M. C. Callan, H. F. Butts, D. R. Stafford, J. T. Jennings, M. H. Walsh, Henry Koop, F. A. Levy, H. D. McGarvey, M. F. Brown, B. F. Yount, R. D. Savage, Robert Brown, A. Basetti, John E. Casey, F. Minor, John Kinnear.

The jury then retired to complete its organization. M. F. Brown was appointed secretary.

The San Mateo Development Company has just installed one of the largest rock crushers in the state at their quarries on Crystal Spring road. It requires twenty teams to cart away the crushed stone when run to its capacity, and the demand for the rock from this quarry is so great that it keeps the machine

Flattered Him.

Magistrate (about to commit for trial)—You certainly effected the robbery in a remarkably ingenious way—in fact, with quite exceptional cunning. Prisoner (deprecatingly)—No flattery, yer honor; no flattery, I begs on yer.

A COMMON ERROR.

Correct the Sentence Before You Read the Explanation.

"May I examine the children a little as to their knowledge of the language?" asked the visitor at the grammar school, an old gentleman with a benevolent aspect of countenance, but a shrewd twinkle in his eye.

"Certainly you may," smilingly answered the teacher.

The old gentleman stepped to the blackboard and wrote this sentence upon it:

"Pennsylvania abounds in anthracite coal."

"Now," he said, "I should like to have some child point out the mistake in that sentence."

One of the older girls came forward, picked up the chalk and rewrote the statement thus:

"Anthracite coal abounds in Pennsylvania."

"Not so bad," said the visitor, "but you haven't found it."

Another changed it as follows:

"Pennsylvania abound with anthracite coal."

"Still incorrect," was the comment.

"Anthracite coal is abundant in Pennsylvania," wrote a third.

"That will not do either," said Mr. Baxter.

One of the big boys tried his hand, with this result:

"Pennsylvania is abundantly supplied with anthracite coal."

"No; that is not so good."

Then a little boy stepped forward and with his finger erased the word "coal."

"That word isn't needed," he said. "'Anthracite' means hard coal."

"Right," said the visitor. "You have one bright pupil, anyhow, Miss Adair."—Youth's Companion.

With the Minstrels.

"Mistah Walkah, wot am de diff'unce 'tween a trav'ler startin' to Tangier an' a plate o' veal hash?"

"I give that one up, George. What is the difference between a traveler starting for Tangier and a plate of veal hash?"

"De one am Morocco bound, an' de uddah am half calf."

"Ladies and gentlemen, the celebrated vocalist, Professor Rox de Bote, will now sing that beautiful and touching sentimental ballad, 'Take Your Face Away, Clarence; You Have Been Using a Safety Razor.'"—Chicago Tribune.

Keeping It Secret.

Village Postmistress—And what are those dashes? Hodge—Oh, he'll understand them right enough. Postmistress—Yes, but we can't send them by telegraph. Hodge—Well, they're the price o' the pigs. He'll understand. Postmistress—Yes, but you must put it in words or figures, else we can't send it. Hodge—Must I? Well, I'll whisper it to 'e, then.—Punch.

The Main Puzzle.

Manager—Have you a problem in your play? Author—One of the greatest. Manager—What is it? Author—How to get it produced.—Baltimore
